Middle school teachers, please read this to your students! A poster of Reggie letting middle school kids know whether or not they can outside after lunch will be posted on the purple bulletin board across from the office in the main hallway (between Kate and Jess's rooms). Students who wish to go outside can look there each day and can then take whatever they need to be outside to the lunchroom so they don't have to go to their lockers for coats, footballs, etc. I will generally have the day's poster up before 1st hour each day. (Let's hope my weather app is accurate! Kate)
